

Make AI Writing Sound Like You

Use AI for a first draft, then add your voice, experience, judgment, and real details until the writing becomes genuinely yours.

Human or robot?

Team makeover

Today's goal

Do not merely hide AI. Improve the writing until it honestly represents you.

Which message sounds more human?

It is with immense pleasure that I am writing to inform you about our upcoming educational program. This remarkable initiative will undoubtedly provide invaluable opportunities for all participants.

Sounds human

Sounds robotic

Vote, then explain your reason.

Look for clues

- Generic praise without evidence
- Formal words nobody in the room uses
- Repeated sentence structure
- No concrete people, place, time, or action
- Perfectly smooth but forgettable language

● ● ● BETTER DEFINITION

Specific

Includes the details the audience actually needs.

Personal

Reflects the writer's real opinion, knowledge, or experience.

Natural

Uses words, rhythm, and tone the writer would normally use.

Responsible

Does not invent experiences, facts, feelings, or sources.

Humanizing is not adding random mistakes. It is making the message clear, honest, useful, and recognizably yours.

Find phrases that often make drafts feel generic.

Click every phrase you would question or replace. Not every phrase is always wrong; context matters.

Undoubtedly provides invaluable insights

Find the generic phrases.

Turn a generic draft into your message.

1

Cut

Remove filler, repetition, and exaggerated claims.

2

Specify

Add real dates, people, actions, examples, and limits.

3

Personalize

Add your view, experience, or reason.

4

Speak

Use words and sentence rhythm natural to you.

5

Verify

Check facts and remove anything AI invented.

Generic draft

We are thrilled to announce an exciting and transformative AI training program that will empower participants with invaluable knowledge and skills for the future.

Authentic revision

Starting Monday, our teachers and office staff will meet for a practical AI workshop at Adarsha Secondary School. We will begin with everyday tasks such as drafting notices, planning lessons, and checking information.

MY VOICE FINGERPRINT

Audience: colleagues

Tone: friendly and direct

Language: simple English with familiar local wording

Sentence style: mostly short sentences with occasional detail

Writing habits: Use practical examples. Avoid exaggerated praise. End with a clear next action.

Instruction for AI:

Help me draft and edit writing for colleagues. Use a friendly and direct tone, simple English with familiar local wording, and mostly short sentences with occasional detail. Use practical examples. Avoid exaggerated praise. End with a clear next action. Preserve my meaning. Ask before inventing details or experiences.

Compare three versions, not just one score.

Did the rewrite actually become better?

A humanizer may replace words but weaken accuracy, tone, or meaning. Score the result instead of trusting the button.

Detection scores are clues, not proof.

Different detectors may disagree. Genuine human writing can be flagged, while edited AI writing may not be flagged.

QuillBot AI Detector

Grammarly AI Detector

Class experiment

1. Test one raw AI paragraph.
2. Test one humanizer rewrite.
3. Test one genuinely human paragraph.
4. Compare both detector results.
5. Discuss disagreement and false confidence.

Never accuse or punish someone using only a detector score.
